

Contents

Preface	5
Acknowledgements	8
Executive Summary	9
Chapter 1. Methods Employed by the Study	18
1. Design of the study and composition of team	18
2. Methods employed	19
3. Difficulties encountered	21
Chapter 2. Overview of the Emergency and the Response	24
1. Introduction	24
2. Principal elements of the crisis and the response	24
3. Humanitarian activities before April 1994	26
4. Operations in and around Kigali	30
5. The Ngara/Karagwe influx	31
6. Cross-border operations from Uganda	34
7. The Goma influx	35
8. The Bukavu influx	38
9. Humanitarian activities in the south and west of Rwanda (Apr-Dec)	41
10. Humanitarian activities in the rest of Rwanda after July 1994	45
Chapter 3. Assessment of Performance: Security, Physical Protection and Military Support	50
1. The critical failure: not preventing the genocide	50
2. Insecurity and its effect upon the provision of humanitarian assistance	50
3. The role of foreign military contingents: an overview	53
4. The provision of security and physical protection by military contingents	54
5. The provision of relief assistance and support to relief agencies by military contingents	57
6. General points on the role of the military in the provision of relief assistance and support to relief operations	60
7. Service packages: a beneficial innovation?	63
Chapter 4. Assessment of Performance: Health, Water and Sanitation	68
1. Morbidity and mortality	68
2. Cholera outbreaks during the emergency	69
3. Provision of water and sanitation in Goma	70
4. Treatment of cholera cases in Goma	73
5. Could cholera have been prevented or the fatality rate reduced?	74
6. Dysentery	75
7. Other diseases	80
8. Programmes for unaccompanied children	81

(End p 2)

Chapter 5. Assessment of Performance: Logistics, Food Supply and Feeding Programmes	87
1. Introduction	87
2. Food logistics: the regional perspective	88
3. Food logistics: performance in relation to needs	91
4. Appropriateness of the rations	94
5. Appropriateness and effectiveness of food distribution systems within the camps	96
6. Selective feeding programmes	97
7. Assessment of the airlift operations	98
8. Cost-effectiveness and logistics	103
9. Estimating the number of refugees and IDPs	105
Chapter 6. Assessment of Performance: Resourcing, Preparedness Measures and Coordination	111
1. Resourcing the operations	111
2. Preparedness, contingency planning and the build-up to the Goma influx	118
3. Coordination	122
Chapter 7. Assessment of Performance: Taking Account of the Views of Beneficiaries and Mitigating the Impact on Host Communities	142
1. Introduction	142
2. Taking account of the views of beneficiaries	142
3. An account of impacts	145
4. Assessment of efforts to mitigate the impact	146
Chapter 8. Cross-Cutting Issues	149
1. Introduction	149
2. Capacity problems	149
3. Visibility and the role of the media	150
4. Too many NGOs?	152
5. Information and mechanisms for ensuring accountability	153
Chapter 9. Findings and Recommendations	156
Abbreviations	168
Figures
Figure 1 Contributions from the main bilateral and multilateral donors ($m.)	25
Figure 2 Allocation of aid by country during 1994 (in percentage)	26
Figure 3 Breakdown of allocations by agency/type of agency during 1994	26
Figure 4 Approximate location of RPF/FAR front line, September 1993 to July 1994	27
Figure 5 Location of refugee camps in Ngara district (Tanzania)	32
Figure 6 Graph showing growth in refugee populations in Ngara and

Karagwe districts	33
Figure 7 Camps in the Goma area	36
Figure 8 Location of the camps in the Bukavu area	39
Figure 9 On-the-ground presence of third-party military contingents in Rwanda and Goma , 1994	53
Figure 10 Airlift flights to Goma, Bukavu and Kigali by category of carrier and cargo	60
Figure 11 Principal causes of death	68
Figure 12 Total treated water delivered to refugees in North Kivu (14 July-12 August 1994)	70
Figure 13 Number of bodies collected and diarrhoea cases reported, North Lake region, 21 Jul-13 Aug	75
Figure 14 Map of East Africa showing principal overland transport routes used during the response	87
Figure 15 Food aid to Rwanda by supply source, April-December 1994	88
Figure 16 Food aid to Goma (Zaire) by supply source, July-December 1994	89
Figure 17 Food aid to Bukavu (Zaire) by supply source, August-December 1994	89
Figure 18 Food aid to Ngara (Tanzania) by supply source, April-December 1994	90
Figure 19 Food aid to Karagwe (Tanzania) by supply source, April-December 1994	90
Figure 20 Cereal distributions to refugees in Zaire and Tanzania from date of influx to end-1994	95
Figure 21 Levels and ranges of malnutrition-- recorded in nutritional surveys conducted during 1994 and early 1995 in refugee and IDP camps	96
Figure 22 Total WFP rail cargoes ex-Dar-es-Salaam	104
Figure 23 DHA Financial Tracking System (FTS) record of expenditures by month in 1994	115
Figure 24 UK ODA funding approvals by month, 1994	115
Figure 25 UK Disaster Emergency Committee (DEC) income by month, 1994	116
Figure 26 International print media coverage of Rwanda in 1994	116
(End p 3	